

Sam Can Read

Sam is a good reader.
He uses clues to help him read.
First, he looks at the picture.
That helps him know what the story is about.
Next, he reads the title of the story.
Now, he knows a little more. As he reads the story,
the words make pictures in his mind.

Color in the box beside the correct answer.

1. Who is Sam?
 a good reader                       a math whiz
2. What does Sam do first?
 Reads the story                       looks at the pictures
3. What else helps Sam to know what the story will be about?
 the title                                       the page number
4. As he reads, what makes pictures in Sam's mind?
 the letters                                       the words